Connection to the external equipments

- If your VCR (or other external devices) has an S-Video terminal, an S-Video connection is recommended because S-Video signal has the better quality than VIDEO signal of A/V IN.
- If your external device has Component terminal and S-Video terminal both, Component connection is recommended. Component video signal is superior to S-Video signal.
- The sound or image signals coming into COMPONENT or S-VIDEO will not be transmitted to MONITOR OUT terminals.
- S-VIDEO and VIDEO in A/V IN share the same jack with AUDIO input. Thus, they can’t be used at the same time.
- COMPONENT inputs accept only 480I video signal, so make the external equipment (DVD or DTV Set - Top Box) to 480I mode.
